For Coroner and Ranger.

We take pleasure in calling attention Edward Hanson, as a candidate for coroner and ranger. In entering the race Mr. Hanson has done so in comriends at all points on the coast, who recognized in him a man possessing every qualifications necessary for the position. During his residence in Biloxi several years back, while in the employ of Dr. J. J. Lemon he made many friends, from whom he will receive a good support.

At home here there is no man more popular with our people. Socially he s a great favorite, and in business matters he is honest, faithful and trustworthy. He is not a politician, having never before being connected with any political office, but he is a good sound Democrat, and will make a reliable and competent officer.

Following is the Meridian News estimate of honest journalism: Those of us who respect our calling and seek to sustain its dignity and integrity, who are journalists, and not penny-a-liners, who refuse to be degraded to the ranks of the "hanks" and whose conscience is their highest earthly tribunal, feel that it is impossible for them to prostitute their columns to the dictates of expediency. They may quit the newspaper business, but they will not degrade their high office for profit; they will print nothing that they do not believe to be true. A newspaper can always afford to be honest. It cannot afford to be anything else. It may truckle for a while to some passing passion, subscribe to a tad and yield up its soul to a popular prejudice, but, in the process, the charter is warped and withered and its influence goes with its character. The people will applaud it for a lit-tle while, but they will not respect it.
